Two Brass Bands and a Big Crowd of Cranks Meet the New Yorkers at the Deput-A Very Cold Bay for Ball Playing. SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 12 .-- Five thousand half-frozen cranks and two brass bands induced Manager Davis to keep the New Yorks on the baseball field here to-day for nine full innings, when the proper place would have been beside a roaring fireplace. The New York baseball "fans" are willing to take chances with pseumonis and other kindred ailments, but the thing. The weather was simply frightful. The temperature, in the first place, was scarcely above freezing point, and, to make things worse a thirty-mile gale whistled about the stand. In the face of all this, Manager Davis was not content to take his men off the field after the home team had finished their half of the ninth, and New York was ahead, but, just to give the boys a little more batting practice, he insisted on playing the full nine innings. It need not surprise the home "rooters" if half a dozen more men are laid up after to-day's game. The game in itself is hardly worthy of descripion for from beginning to end it was a mere farce, the players being too near frozen to do ception of Ogden, Williams, and Davis, a brother the New Yorks' captain, the home team seems to know as much about the national game as a basketful of monkeys. If reception counts, however, Schenectady is very much in it. The team arrived shortly bevery much in it. The team arrived shortly bebefore 2 o'clock, and were met at the depot by two brass bands and nearly 2,000 people. While they were dressing at the hotel the crowd shivered on the outside, while the bands tried to enliven matters by playing.

Afterward the boys, in company with the two brass bands and a small army of people, were driven about the town for three-quarters of an hour. Finally they arrived at the grounds, and the opening game of the season was begun with the home team at the bat. They drew blanks for seven consecutive innings, when "Dad"
Clarke was sent into the box and told to let up.
As a result, the home team got six runs, all of which were gifts.

Clarke was sent into the box and told to let up. As a result, the home team got six runs, all of which were gifts.

The New York team, aided by 13 errors and general loose playing on the part of the home team, succeeded in getting in 11 runs.

In the sixth inning a gentleman of the name of Seymour started in to pitch, but after nearly scaring the life out of five New Yorkers, and making six wild pitches and giving two bases on balls, he was taken out. All this and a crazy man in the crowd, who wanted to shoot somebody, was the New Yorks' experience in Schenectady. The score:

NEWPORT, Va., April 12.—The Brooklyns were hussled out of bed this morning at 5:30 o'clock to take the train for Newport News. They toyed with the crack team of that thriving young city this afternoon, and pleased the 200 spectators by allowing the locals, "crab eatchers" they are dubbed, to make five runs. The grounds are the largest that the boys have played on this year, but Lachance knocked the ball into the cornfield at the rear of the left field fence. It was the first home run ever made at the park. Gumbert pitched the first five innings and did good work. He was relieved in the sixth by Stein, who was in fine form. There was no occasion for either pitcher to let himself out. Burns had some difficult chances in the field, but he accepted them all. Shindle, Tredway, and Burns did good work with the stick. Foute's "pets" are glad that the Southern trip will soon terminate. They will play in Portamouth tomorrow. The score:

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 12.—Harvard won an easy game this afternoon from the Lovels, batting Sullivan all over the field and running bases in splendid fashion. It was a cloudy, raw day, and numerous errors by the visiting team aided Harvard in run getting. Highlands was effective, but wild as a hawk. The Harvard team put up a sharp, clean fielding game, and were always in the lead. The all-round work of Scanneil, Wrenn, Flack, and Moore was the only feature. The score:

There is a desire on the part of the cranks to see the Georgetown University team tackle the New Yorks next Monday. The overwhelming defeat of the Yale team has boomed the stock of the Washington collegians away shove par, but there may be a hitch over the arrangement of the game. The Georgetown boys want the game called at Sciolock so that they can ment cannot afford to call the game before 10 clock. If the Georgetowns cannot come, the New Yorks will play the Jaspers of Manhattan College.

To THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-Sir: Without wishing to criticise the management of the New York Blaseball (bub, it seems to the majority of the supporters and well-wishers of the Brown University Baseball nine that the remarkable unanimity with which it was at once decided to give the Yale team a second game with the New Yorks is suspicious, to say the least. Is it too much to ask that if Yale is to have a second game with the New Yorks is suspicious, to say the least. Is it too much to ask that if Yale is to have a second game with the New Yorks is suspicious, to say the least. Is it too much to ask that if Yale is to have a second game with the New Yorks is suspicious, to say the least. Is it too much to ask that if Yale is to have a second game with the same pitchers used against Brown are to occupy the box, that Brown in all fairness should be allowed a chance to meet the same men who pitched against Yale in the first game. The face that Brown that a second game with Yale is necessary, surely makes it a trifle unjust to allow the latter double chances to better her position in the contest for the cup. If Brown is beaten in this manner her supporters, while regretiting such result, will surely feel that her honor and prestige are unstained. Yours truly, Providence, R. L. April 12. Roger Williams.

A Knock-out in Every Bout at the Brook-lys Boxing Club's Tourney.

The monthly private invitation subscription boxing tournament of the Brooklyn Boxing Club was held last night in the club house at Ridgefor ten rounds between Dick Phelan of New York and Eddie Daley of Brooklyn. Jack Mace, Ridgewood A. C., was the referee, while two prominent medical men of Brooklyn held the watches.

It was a very savage fight. Phelan cut Daley's face badly, while the Brooklyn fighter punished Pheian with both hands about the body. When the last round began both men were very groggy. Daley on the point of the chin with his right as Daley staggered in toward him, and the latter went down in a heap. He was counted out.

Hilly James of Newark faced Billy O'Brien of New York for the next bout, a feather-weight fielt at 118 pounds, for ten rounds. Early in the first round James floored O'Brien with a awake right hand facer. The latter gained his feet quickly and rushed James all over the ring. It was give and take, with a plenitude of lightning-like exchanges, for the remainder of the "go." In the seventh round O'Brien knocked out the Jerseyman with a blow on the wind.

The third bout was short, but very lively. The principals were Dick Moore of Brooklyn and Jack Cassy of Jersey City. They weighed 1194 and 1214 pounds respectively. The card called for eight rounds. Casey at the call of time promptly rushed his opponent, landed a left-hand facer, and placed his right in the wind, getting away without a return. Moore clinched on the next rally, and did some clever work at close quarters. Casey fought desperately, but was outclassed in science. During a tussie in his corner in the third round he received his quietus, Moore putting him tosicep in 1 minute 239, seconds.

Moore putting him to sleep in 1 minute 23½ seconds.

The wind-up was between Billy Ray of Laurel Hill, L. I., and Martin Jackson of New York for ten rounds at catch weights. Although outclassed in strength, weight, and height, Ray fought desperately, using both hands very fast, and returning punch for punch. Ray was cut and bleeding in the second, fourth, and fifth rounds, but in the sixth round he made his opponent ground by repeated jabs in the wind. The gong saved Jackson. The latter came up much refreshed for the next round. Ray did not give him any rest, however, but continued to land blows in the wind which proved to be effective. In the ninth round Ray punched Jackson in the wind five times with his left and then caught him in the same place with his right, knocking him down and out. Time of round 2 minutes 11½ seconds.

WHAT WHEELMEN TALK ABOUT. Class A Riders Must Obey the Rules-The

The New York State Division and the Kings County Wheelmen have secured national circuit dates, and they will hold their races at tensive circuit ever arranged by the League of American Wheelmen. Chief Consul L. B. Potter of the New York State Division of the League of American Wheelmen stated yesterday that the new tour book will be ready for distribution next week. The tour book, which will be in convenient form and size for the pocket, will describe 140 separate tours, including the following:

Thirty-one tours for New York city and Brooklyn wheelmen, 35 tours for Albany wheelmen, 21 tours for Buffalo wheelmen, 9 tours for Rochester wheelmen. Tours from Binghamton, Troy. Utica. Poughtours to Washington, Boston, Providence, Asbury Park, Chicago, Gettysburg, Natural Bridge (Va.); on Long Island, on Staten Island, and through the interior of the State; tours in New England, in Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. "A club run" is laid out; a century run for New York city riders; a "half-holiday run"; "around Long Island," &c.

A special road book for New York and Brooklyn wheelmen will be prepared during the year, and will be entitled "Fifty Miles Around New

The Guide Board bill has passed both branches of the Legislature and is now in the hands of Gov. Morton. It provides that the Commissioners of Highways must erect guide boards at country road crossings where they are petitioned by five or more real estate owners of any town, and that guide boards must be put up at the points mentioned in the petition. Commissioners failing to comply with the requirements of the petition and neglecting so to do for a period of sixty days are subject to a fine of $25, to be collected by the Supervisors of the town and paid into the guide board fund.

The State meet will occur in Brooklyn on June The State meet will occur in isproklyn on June 14 and 15. A National circuit sanction for the races on June 15 has been obtained from the Chairman of the Racing Board.

A meeting of representatives of the cycling clubs of Brooklyn was held at the Brooklyn Bievole Club house, 80 Hanson place, to perfect arrangments for the annual meet. Chief Consul Potter presented a communication from Austin Corbin relating to the new cycle track at Manhattan Beach and a general outline for the conduct of arrangements. A resolution was adopted authorizing the Chief Consul to select committees for the management and providing that the Chairman of these committees should constitute an Executive Committee for the general management. The Executive Committee will meet on Wednesday evening of each week at 80 Hanson place, Brooklyn. The arrangements will be conducted by the cycling clubs of Brooklyn without regard to their representation in the League, and the officers of the League have agreed to expend the entire net profits of the meet for the construction of cycle paths or the erection of guide boards on Long Isiand as may be hereafter decided. 14 and 15. A National circuit sanction for the Lengue have agreed to expend the entire net profits of the meet for the construction of cycle paths or the erection of guide boards on Long Island as may be hereafter decided.

The Racing Board of the L. A. W. intend to keep a watchful eye upon class A riders for violation of the League rules this year. Regarding class A riders receiving remuneration from the cycle dealers. Chairman (fideon says:

"What the Racing Board objects to is for a rider to enter into an agreement with a dealer to ride his wheel for a certain length of time with the understanding that in consideration for so doing he is to receive the machine, though the transfer figures nominally as a loan, because it is stated that the wheel is to be eventually returned. Such an arrangement is a compensation from the dealer just as much as though cash was given, and any rider making such an agreement will be transferred to class B."

The action of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club in deciding to withdraw from membership in the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs was widely discussed by wheelmen whose clubs are enrolled in that association. It is felt that the desertion of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club will have the effect to induce other clubs to resign their membership, but the fact that the contemplated organization of an association on Long Island will be composed of Long Island clubs exclusively will debar any clubs from this city from membership. The withdrawal of the Brooklyn clubs will be a serious loss to the Metropolitan Association.

The Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn intend to make cycling one of the features of outdoor sports this season. With this object in view W. R. Thompson and E. H. Walker have been appointed a cycling committee to have charge of the wheeling division. The club will ofter facilities for the care and temporary storage of wheeling division. Canadian Wheelmen Adopt the L. A. W. Class Bystem.

Toronto, April 12.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association was held here to-day and attended by wheelmen from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There were 2,793 votes cast at the meeting, the greatest number of votes ever polled at a meeting of the association. It was remarked by the President that, while all the big associations of wheelmen in the United States had decreased in membership during the past year, the Cauadian association showed a considerable increase. Dr. Doolittie of Toronto was elected President. It was proposed to amend the constitution so as to admit professionals. Action on this matter was deferred till the next annual meeting, but It was decided to adopt two classes for riders, A and R. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. OFFICIAL REPORT ON DR. LOUIS WALDSTEIN'S DISCOVERY,

It Consists of the Injection of Boses of Filocarpine in the Veins to Stimulate the Lymphatic System and to Increase the White Corpuscies of the Blood. WASHINGTON, April 12.- The interest aroused by the publication of the discovery in Berlin by Dr. Louis Waldstein of a cure for consumption and cancer has caused the Department of State to make public the full text of the official report from Consul-General De Key at Berlin, which has just been received. It is as follows: "The coming Medical Congress in Munich likely to give no little attention to a discovery made by Dr. Louis Waldstein of New York, which is announced this week in the Berliner Klinische Wochenchrift, the most serious and trustworthy medical weekly in Germany. The congress will have much to say about the Loffler and Behring hellserum for the cure of diphtheria, and as Dr. Waldstein's discovery in a certain sense completes the hellserum, acting favorably on patients whom the serum does not cure, the new idea of the American can hardly fall to be noticed. I have thought that such a discovery, even if it cured the obscure and hitherto incurable disease of the akin called lupus, ought to be known at once in America, where it may save lives and shorten much af-

"During his earlier studies in New York, Dr. Waldstein (born in that city and the possessor of a large practice there) had his attention called to pilocarpine, an extract usually sold in crystals, from the jaborandi, a Brazilian plant (Pilocarpus pennatifolius), This well-known alkaloid acts powerfully on the salivary and the was trying to discover the effects of the stimulymphatic, &c., on the entire system. He made the discovery that pilocarpine exercised the most surprising effects on the lymphatic glands and the entire system, to which we ascribe the elaboration of the lymph, or white corpuscies of the blood. the cloud.

"Having given himself a year's holiday, he passed some time at the hospital at Nancy, France, where many consumptives and other patients affected with forms of tuberculosis were watched by him. Then, coming to Berlin, he passed the last four months at the Urban and enjoyed all that hospital's generous welcome to serious foreign students, it was here that he proved to himself the truth of his reasoning on the relations of the lymphatic system to discusses like lupus, as well as tuberculosis in other forms, to dipitheria, and other discases.

"The key of his discovery is this: By successive injections of minute doses of phocarpine in the veins he arrives at a gradual stimulation of the lymphatic system. That system increases the white corpuscies in the blood, which corpuscies, as is well established through Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute of Paris, Hankin of Cambridge, and Buchner of Munich, in some way, not generally agreed upon, do certainly overcome and cause to be harmiess those poisonous particles in the blood which produce disease. Metchnikoff thinks that the microbes which destroy the red corpuscies of the hood are swallowed and englobed alive by the white corpuscies. Hankin and Buchner think that the white corpuscies are like white corpuscies are like white corpuscies are like white corpuscies has the white corpuscies barely absorb the dead microbes, and therefore call the white corpuscies which corpuscies barely absorb the dead microbes, and therefore call the white corpuscies are like the continuous disease, these health-giving particles to enlive its action and productiveness when, through disease, these health-giving particles have become too few to keep the blood in proper order.

Waldstein has not had time to watch the effect of his discovery in relation to tuberculosis of the lungs, but the reasoning that led him to what he has aircady achieved seems equally good for the cure of this terrible securge of mankind. He strongly advises physicians to try pilocarpine in the early stages of consumption, and, indeed, in all diseases where the lymphatic system is involved, because of its stimulating action upon the organs in that system and the consequent production of white corpuscies. He has satisfied himself that pilocarpine, when injected in the veins, forms a trustworthy test for the presence of tubercular disease in man and in animals, giving the physician the strongest possible certainty in the diagnosis of obscure cases.

"A striking instance of the truth of his reason." A striking instance of the truth of his reason. "A striking instance of the truth of his reasoning is the case of a man 24 years old, a Herliner, who has had a lupus on the back of his right hand for twenty-two years and was thought incurable. Helief was immediate after the first injection and the hand is almost healed. This cure has created a sensation among medical men, and some hope that the road to the cure of cancer also has been entered.

"Dr. Louis Waldstein is a well-known physician of New York, born in that city some forty-two years ago. His father was for many years a leading optician, and his younger brother is Dr. Charles Waldstein, the archaeologist, recently appointed Slado professor at the University of Cambridge, England."

WATER POLO CHAMPIONS AGAIN.

The water polo championship remains with the New York A. C. swimmers despite the plucky efforts of their Chicago rivals. The teams met in the N. Y. A. C. tank last night for their accord game, and although the scoring was much closer than on the previous night, there were very few among the enthusiasts present who would take the Western end at any the ball in play at 8:20 o'clock. It was at once gobbled up by P. F. Dickey, the speedy N. Y. A. C. centre, who immediately passed it. The Chicago backs held their own manfully and stalled off every assault until W. E. Dickey got the rubber and dived through a scrimmage to the goal. The point took 1 minute 47 seconds to make, and Dickey was under water almost every alternate second. When the ball was dropped in again the Chicago men developed all the aggressiveness with which their admirers previously credited them, and the scrimmages threw even Ridgewood in the shade. P. F. Dickey got the ball, but was promptly charged down by Capt. Thorne. W. E. Dickey clutched the rubber soon after and set sail for the Chicago goal, but Thompson swooped down on him, and when the maeistrom subsided both players were bleeding freely from the exchange of compliments under ndvanced the rubber by near combination play, and were making things very lively inside the N. Y. A. C. goad line when the whistle blew for half time.

After change of sides P. F. Dickey and Thorne swam a dead heat for the ball, and the tackling grew very warm. The N. Y. A. C. men seemed satisfied to act entirely on the defensive and let their opponents come to them. The Chicago players strained every nerve, and took no chances, but the champions were more than equal to every energency, and their maxing was a revelation even to the expert critics around the tank. The home forwards repeatedly passed the ball back to their defence and the sphere careered about the tank in such bewildering fashion that the Windy City cracks were completely nonplussed.

Haubold and Kinther were the heroes of some very hot scrimmages, and frequently tested the

MRS. FOGG'S $100,000 GIFT.

St. John's Gulid Does Not Share in It, the General Term Holds. The General Term of the Supreme Court has just ruled on the disposition to be made of the proceeds of a certificate for 1,000 shares of the stock of the Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing Company, valued at over $100,000, which was the property of Mrs. Elizabeth Fogg of 359 Fifth avenue, who died on Jan. 3, 1891, leaving a large estate.

She wished to make some provision for the poor, and on Dec. 10, 1890, she transferred the certificate to Charles B. Fosdick, whom she subsequently appointed her executor. He was to use it for charitable purposes. A day later she signed a paper conveying this certificate to Mr. Fordick, the proceeds, to the extent of $100,000, to be appropriated in sums of $5,000 each in her name to twenty charitable organizations which she named. She subsequently reduced the list to ten, and on Dec. 21, 1800, executed a codell to her will directing Fosdick to divide the $100,000 among nine institutions as follows:

Young Women's Christian Association of this city. New York Diet Kitchen. Training School for Nurses connected with Believue lospital."
Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen of New York.
Rome for Working Girls, West Eleventh street.
New Hork Homeopathic Medical College and Hospital. Secrety for the Employment and Relief of Poor

Women. Home for Aged of New York. Old Ladies' Home, Charlestown, Mass Home for Aged of New York.

Old Laddies Home, Charlestown, Mass.

This list did not include St. John's Guild of New York, which was mentioned in the other list. Thirteen days later Mrs. Fogg died. A dispute immediately arose between the executors of the will and Mr. Fossick as to who should have the disposition of this fund, the proceeds of the certificate.

The case has been tried twice, and has just for the second time been passed upon by the General Term. The Special Term held that there was created an absolute gift of the stock and the proceeds to Fosdick, in trust for the ten institutions named in Mrs. Fogg's list. The appellate court decides that assuming that Mrs. Fogg intended on Dec. 20, 1890, to make a gift to St. John's Guild by means of a trust, to take effect after her death, that was effectually revoked by the codicil executed on Dec. 21, 1890, The original gift, the Court holds, was not completed, and the codicil code its place.

The judgment of the Special Term is, therefore, reversed and a new trial is ordered.

Balthaser Stahl Says Elizabeth Robbed Him of a House and Lot.

Balthaser Stanl, a retired milk dealer, 73 years plained in the Harlem Police Court yesterday that his daughter Elizabeth had robbed him of a house and lot. The property in question is at 652 East 160th street. Stahl says he conveyed it to his daughter on July 1, 1891, to hold in trust and to return to him on demand. On July 29, 1892, according to Stahl's story, Elizabeth and a mortgage of $3,500, and that he has never and a mortgage of $3,500, and that he has never since been able to get money, mortgage, or property from his daughter. To further strengthen his case he said his daughter was not a fit person to hold any such amount of property, as she was given to playing the races and associating with nerrons not noted for their thrifty ways. The defendant contented herself by saying that she was willing to surrender the property to the proper owner, but that her father was not the rightful claimant, She was held in $3,000 bail for examination, and reserved the name of the alleged rightful owner until the examination. It is said that Stahl feared the result of a law-

If Turner Remarried in New Jersey He May

Rosa Turner got an absolute divorce in June last from Albert E. Turner in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn. An order was issued pro-hibiting the defendant to marry again during the plaintiff's life. Three months later, it is alleged, he went to New Jersey and got married. He also falled to pay his wife the alimony allowed by the court, and spent three months in Raymond street jail in consequence. Yesterday a motion was made before Justice Bartiett in the Supreme Court to have him punished for contempt of court for remarrying.

TROLLEY TROUBLE IN BROOKLYN.

Stopping the Cars at Crossings. The section of the new trolley car ordinance in Brooklyn in relation to the stopping of cars has caused much grumbling and inconvenience. It provides: "All cars stopping at a street corner must stop with the front platform at the near crossing, and all such cars must come to a full stop before crossing an intersecting railroad." Stopping inside of any block not exceeding 200 feet is prohibited altogether, and in blocks exceed-is probibited altogether, and in blocks exceeding 300 feet a stopping place is located in the middle of the block.

There are numerous points on the main line where streets branch off but do not intersect, and at these no stop is made. It is this fact which causes the trouble, and daily men and women can be seen waiting in groups for a car and waying their arms as it sweeps just them either to the next intersecting railroad or troiley station.

It is probable there may be some modification in the ordinance, but until it is made, it will be

It is probable there may be some modification in the ordinance, but until it is made it will be strictly carried out by the motormen. Until this recent trolley ordinance went into effect the cars bound down town stopped at the down town side of the crossing, and the cars up town at the up-town side, but now the rule is reversed.

Mary C. Swan, aged 70 years, after alighting from a Flatbush avenue trolley car at Flatbush and St. Mark's avenues, in Brooklyn, yesterday morning, was struck by a car going in the opposite direction. She received a severe scalp wound. She was taken to her home at 130 Sixth avenue.

Some of the stranger's excitement must have communicated itself to the policemen, for they put spurs to their horses and galloped up the avenue after the highwaymen without waiting to even ask the compainant's name. The prisoners said they were James Carrell, 28 yearsold, and Matthew McNally, 31. They were remanded.
